Volunteers help

by Diane Hentges

Even though the temperatures are hot, the start of school is just around the corner. There are programs in our area that help young people with learning. These programs need the commitment of volunteers who will serve as role models, tutors and mentors. Most programs that have volunteers who work with youth will require a face-to-face interview and background checks of prospective volunteers.

Home Ties is a youth residential center program of Associate Youth Services, an organization that works with at-risk teens. There are generally 10 adolescent boys in residence that need tutoring in basic math skills. Tutors should be at least 18 years of age, be proficient in high school math and reading, and have a high school diploma or a GED. Volunteers are asked to make a three-month commitment, 1-2 hours per week. Volunteers will be
